

Travel directions to the Hawkshead campus

The Hawkshead Campus is situated on Hawkshead Lane, North Mymms, Hertfordshire AL9 7TA

By Road

Approaching the campus from the south, most visitors enter the local road system from either Junction 23 (with the A1(M)) or Junction 24 of the M25.

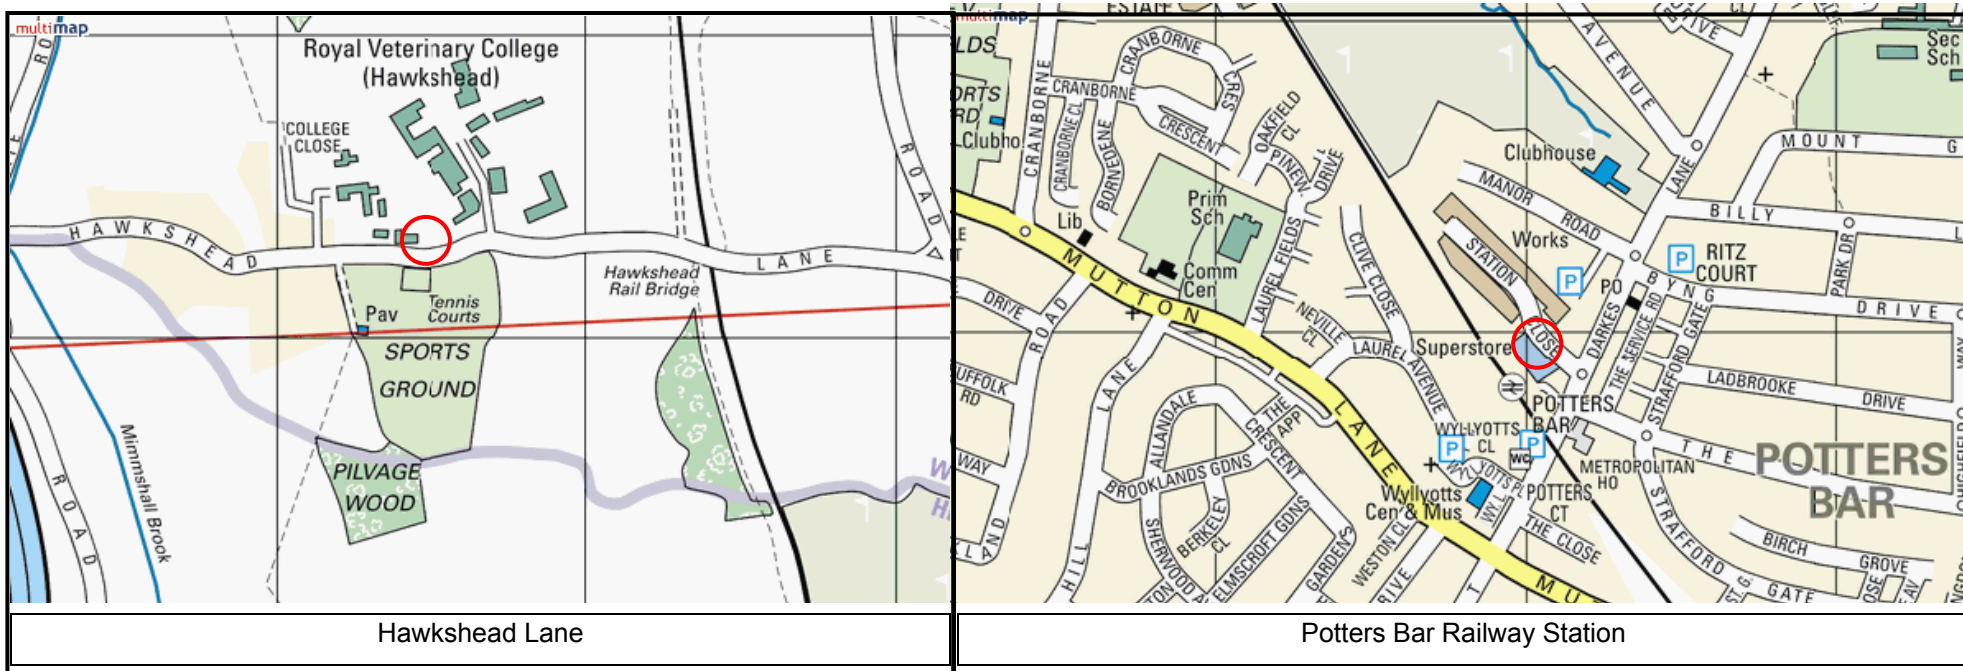

From the M25 Junction 23 head towards the services area then follow the signs to the Vet College taking you up Swanland Road, then 3rd right in to Warrengate Road (not 2nd right in to Warrengate Lane) and right again over a bridge in to Hawkshead Lane.

From the M25 Junction 24 take the A111 (Southgate Road) to Potters Bar. At the first main junction and traffic lights, turn right onto the A1000 towards Hatfield. Follow the A1000 through Potters Bar and then follow the signs to the Vet College (a left turn onto Hawkshead Road and then into Hawkshead Lane).

From the north, taking the A1 (southbound) Exit direction after the Hatfield tunnel & take the A1001 Eastbound towards Welham Green and then take the A1000 Southbound and follow the signs to the Vet College (a right turn onto Hawkshead Road and then into Hawkshead Lane).

Larger vehicles (such as those carrying animals or making deliveries) are urged to approach (and leave) the College's Hawkshead Main Site from the east - such as from Junction 24 of the M25 then via the A1000 through Potters Bar to Hawkshead Road, then into Hawkshead Lane.

Cyclists and pedestrians are urged to take particular care in the generally narrow and unlit local by-ways around the campus.
