Plagiarism and Cheating

This includes in-course assessments and projects. A short version of the definition of Plagiarism and Cheating is as follows:

Plagiarism is the act of presenting the ideas or discoveries of another as one's own. To copy sentences, phrases or even striking expressions without acknowledgement in a manner which may deceive the reader as to the source is plagiarism. Where such copying or close paraphrasing has occurred, the mere mention of the source in a bibliography will not be deemed sufficient acknowledgement; in each instance it must be referred specifically to its source. Verbatim quotations must be directly acknowledged, either in inverted commas or by indenting (University of Kent).

Plagiarism may include collusion with another student, or the unacknowledged use of a fellow student's work with or without their knowledge and consent. Similarly the direct copying by a student of their own original writings qualifies as plagiarism if the fact that the work has been or is to be presented elsewhere is not clearly stated.

Cheating is similar to plagiarism, but more serious. Cheating means submitting another student's work, knowledge or ideas to be assessed while pretending that they are your own.

You should consult your supervisor or Course Director if you are in any doubt about what is permissible.

Any attempt to invent or otherwise falsify data is fraudulent scientific practice.

The University takes a very serious view of Examination Offences. Depending upon the nature of the offence, one of a range of penalties, up to expulsion from the University, may be imposed.

DECLARATION BY STUDENT

I have read and understood the definition of plagiarism and cheating given and I declare that this assignment submitted by me during my registration as a student of the Royal Veterinary College is my own work, and that I have acknowledged all results and quotations from the published or unpublished work of other people.

CertAVP Module Enrolment Form

This form shows the:

- fees to enrol per module
- fees to have A-FAVP.1 module essay plans reviewed
- fees to be assessed per module

Enrolment only on a module will provide you with access to learning support material for that one module. Enrolment and payment of at least one assessment fee will provide you with access to learning support material for all modules.

Paying the review fee for the A-FAVP.1 module gives you the opportunity of having assessors give feedback on your essay plans before you submit final essays for assessment. If you are unsure if you need this additional service, you may wish to submit a few completed essays first, see what feedback you get, and if you then feel you need to have your essay plans reviewed, you can pay for the optional review fee at that later stage.

Access to a practice quiz for the A-FAVP.1 online exam is available two weeks before the live exam.

When enrolling on C Modules, be aware that there is an annual assessment timetable, so enrol before an assessment schedule starts, and not mid way through. Check the Module Outlines for the timetables or contact certavp@rvc.ac.uk for advice. Also only enrol in the year you are planning on submitting work.

With reference to the 2 year limit on completing a module, only enrol on modules that you know you can complete within that time. You can enrol on just one module at a time, or a few - it is your choice. You may choose to pay the enrolment fee now and delay paying the assessment fee until you are ready to submit your first piece of work for marking, or you can pay the full amount together.

These fees are subject to change and are reviewed each year – the listed fees are valid until 31st July 2017.

Learner Agreement

Rules and Regulations: College Rules and Regulations are available on Learn, RVC Intranet, electronically or in writing, and must be complied with.

Plagiarism: I understand that it is compulsory to complete the online plagiarism test before submitting my first piece of work for assessment.

Declaration: I agree that I will abide by all College Rules and Regulations and it is my intention to enrol for the following module/s and complete all module assessments within a 2 year period.
